MASS MEETING TONIGHT ON WATER AND LIGHT

WEST BRAINERD, MILL DISTRICT SITUATIONS UP

RELAYING OF OLD AND LEAKY KALOMEIN MAINS IS A NECESSITY

SHALL CHARTER BE AMENDED TO GET PROPER PAYMENT FOR HYDRANT SERVICE

At 8 o'clock this evening in Gardner hall, the public is asked to assemble and listen to data pertaining to laying mains into West Brainerd and into the Mill district, re-laying old and leaky kalomein mains, and amending the charter to obtain proper payment for hydrant service. The talk will be limited to four topics in order to make sure that a thorough discussion will be possible in the short time the evening allows.

It behooves every citizen to turn out and learn the truth of the situation to enable him to judge accurately and decide just what to do. It affects everybody's pocketbooks and it is for everybody to know how it does that.

It is not sufficient for any one to say that he is not interested and will not be there. If you trust the Water & Light board in what it has done, be there and say so. The public turned out strong to support the mayor in his attempt to promote law enforcement; now let us turn out and support the Water & Light board if we believe they deserve it.

Whether or not the board is doing the best that can be done, we may learn tonight. We understand that a great deal of preparation has been made in the form of charts to put the figures of the department before our eyes, for us to read and study. We may anticipate an instructive evening.

LET'S GO!

St. Louis Co. Farmers Going After Unchecked Moonshine Business

Duluth, Feb. 10.—Aroused by the recent suicide of John Albert Beckman, father of 10 children, who shot and killed himself while under the influence of moonshine liquor, and what they term a "scandalous situation surrounding the almost unchecked moonshine manufacturing and bootlegging business in the north country," residents of Fairbanks and vicinity, about 50 miles north of Duluth, have called a mass meeting for Sunday. Farmers, settlers, woodsmen, townspeople, township officers, town constables and justices of the peace in and around the towns of Bassett, Fairbanks and Hornby will attend the meeting, which will be held in the Tolmi township hall.

Representatives of the federal prohibition department and county sheriff's office will be invited to attend, according to William Johnston, station agent at Fairbanks.

Plans for organizing a vigilance committee, with every law-abiding citizen comprising the membership, to assist federal and county officers in suppressing the illicit liquor traffic, will be formulated, said Mr. Johnston.

Impromptu discussion of such a plan was given momentum with the tragic death of Mr. Beckman, who was one of the pioneer residents of Bassett township. Decision to call in the town and country folk to outline plans for a sweeping attack on the moonshiners and bootleggers was reached at a committee meeting last Sunday, according to Mr. Johnston.

PROPOSED TAXES TO RAISE MONEY FOR SOLDIERS' BONUS

COMPLAINT MADE THAT TAXES FALL ON SHOULDERS OF COMMON PEOPLE

(By United Press.) Washington, Feb. 10.—That the tax burdens appear to be aimed directly at the shoulders of the common people, seems to be the idea gathered from the messages from all parts of the country raised in protest against the tentative plans of the republican house ways and means committee to provide funds for the soldiers bonus. The bonus will be paid by the smokers, motorists, theatre goers, real estate buyers and those having checking accounts in banks, according to present plans of the committee. Such taxes may be in force three years and covers this tentative schedule:

25c per horsepower of automobiles. 1c a gallon on gasoline. 1c on each bank check written. A tax of 5c on $10 of real estate transfers. Increased tax on theatre admissions. 50c a thousand on cigars. 2c a pound on chewing and smoking tobacco. A document tax. All these figures are but tentative and may be changed.

PRESIDENT HARDING SENDS MESSAGE TO CROOKSTON SHOW

(By United Press.) Crookston, Feb. 10.—President Harding is more than pleased with the agricultural outlook, following the recent conference he had called in Washington to consider means of ameliorating the situation.

There was read at the winter agricultural show staged in Crookston by farmers of the Red River Valley a message from the president in which he expressed his lively interest in the farmers' work. He said:

"I am impressed with the fact that it is precisely through agricultural organization that it is best calculated to accomplish telling results for agriculture and to direct wisely the efforts of the farmers in coping with temporary depression.

"In the hope of providing encouragement for this class of efforts I instituted this agricultural conference. The useful results expected have been more than realized.

"I believe it has set a new mark in the aspirations not alone of agricultural communities but in the entire country. A better understanding of agricultural problems has been secured and more effective measures to cope with them."

A letter received from Senator Kellogg extolled the benefits of co-operative marketing and called attention to the good results accomplished by the Association of California Fruit Growers.

MODERN GIRL IS MERELY TRYING TO BE INTERESTING

(By United Press.) Chicago, Feb. 10.—"The flapper is not as flip as her accusers claim. The modern girl only tries to be interesting. She wishes merely to suggest—merely suggest—that perhaps—"

Making it plain that for the sake of domestic tranquility she wishes to agree with her husband as far as possible on questions of feminism. Mrs. W. L. George, wife of the noted English novelist and feminist, voiced her opinions.

"There are cases when an agreement is impossible and it isn't my fault," Mrs. George stated with the natural ability woman has to beat the argument. Her husband sat quietly during the interview and expressed no difference of opinion.

"Women of today don't over-advertise," said Mrs. George. "To look like a vamp nowadays is the fashion, and the fashion for women are all set by men. The charges against the flapper are voiced merely because everyone is making a fuss over her," Mrs. George stated.

"Parties are given for girls of all ages, never for the boys."

UNION-SINN FEIN OUTBREAK FEARED

(By United Press.)

Belfast, Feb. 10.—Three thousand Ulster volunteers, bitter enemies of southern Irishmen, have joined a force of 5,000 constabulary on the Ulster frontier. Sinn Fein raiders are holding many captives.

A telegram to Michael Collins indicated that Ulster men would commit reprisals for the kidnapping of 200 of their men. The report has created the worst possible situation and Unionists and Sinn Feiners fear an outbreak.

At Cladystrade and County Tyrone clashes are occurring between the police and the Irish republican army. One constable was killed and an Irish republican soldier seriously wounded in a big battle raging.

U. S. HALTS WORK ON 14 CAPITAL SHIPS

STEP TAKEN IN ANTICIPATION OF NAVAL LIMITATION TREATY RATIFICATION

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 10.—The naval ordnance plant at South Charleston was under orders from Secretary Edwin Denby of the navy department to close at once and to lay off without pay until June 30 all employees except those for maintenance and protection of the plant.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Construction work on 14 capital ships has been suspended by order of Secretary of the Navy Denby under direction of President Harding.

The step was taken in anticipation of ratification of the naval limitation treaty which resulted from the Washington conference and under which only three of the vessels involved will be completed as war craft. The other 11 will be scrapped or converted to merchant ships.

Coincidentally with Secretary Denby's order came advices from Tokyo that Japan has ordered dockyards to stop construction work on the eight battleships and battle cruisers now on the ways, which are to be scrapped in accordance with the Washington agreement.

Secretary Denby acted after Assistant Secretary Theodore Roosevelt had discussed with President Harding the terms of the treaty affecting the new ships. Mr. Harding approved the suggestion that work be brought to a standstill at once on the eight super-dreadnoughts and six battle cruisers pending final action on the treaty. In round figures the building operations thus halted have cost the government approximately $5,000,000 a month.

Only one capital ship under construction was exempted from the suspension order. It is the Colorado, more than 90 per cent complete, and which will be retained in the permanent fleet.

Vessels on which work was ordered stopped included eight first-class battleships, the Washington, West Virginia, South Dakota, Indiana, Montana, North Carolina, Iowa and the Massachusetts.

Work also was ordered suspended on six battle cruisers, the Lexington, Constellation, Saratoga, Ranger Constitution and United States.

While work on the battleships West Virginia and Washington was ordered stopped, one of these ships will be completed and added to the fleet when finished.

Of the six battle cruisers, two are to be completed as airplane carriers, but work of converting them to that type will not be undertaken until the treaty has been ratified.

FOUR MEN SUSPECTS IN TAYLOR MURDER CASE; ONE WOMAN

DISTRICT ATTY. TAKES LEADERSHIP IN THE INVESTIGATION OF MYSTERIOUS MURDER

MABEL NORMAND AND MARY MILES MINTER FIRST TO BE QUESTIONED BY ATTORNEY

(By FRANK BARTHOLOMEW (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Los Angeles, Feb. 10.—The field of suspects in the William Desmond Taylor murder case has narrowed down to four men and a Miss X. The forces of law have been combined to work under a single head.

Random clues, reports of Taylor's past life and his love affairs—letters disappearing and re-appearing—"pink silk nighties", all these have been consolidated today in a single mass of exhibits, under consideration by District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine, who has taken the leadership of the various agencies to ferret out the murderer of the film producer. All evidence of every kind has been placed at Woolwine's disposal. New witnesses are expected to be examined by him.

Mabel Normand and Mary Miles Minter will be the first up before him. These actresses are most prominent, not because they are suspects, but because of their great friendship for the film director.

The district attorney's office has the Mabel Normand letters. If they throw no light on the murder they will not be used nor made public. The story that she was at Taylor's house on Wednesday, the night of the murder, to secure these letters, is now denied.

These suspects fit into various theories of the murder mystery: Edward F. Sands, first suspect, might have been both the man who planned and executed the crime. It is believed by some. Taylor, it has been said, had threatened Sands with prosecution for grand larceny and forgery. A blackmail charge involves Sands. Taylor drew $2,000 from a local bank shortly before the murder and returned it to the bank the day before the shooting. Taylor, it is reasoned, might have decided to pay the blackmail demanded, then changed his mind, grew obstinate and was killed.

The second suspect is the adult son of a multi-millionaire New York manufacturer, who was madly in love with the actress whose lingerie was found in Taylor's room.

The third suspect is an individual high in the motion picture producing world, whose phenomenal rise in the past few years has been one of the wonders of the industry. He was said to be in love with the same actress whose charms had infatuated the eastern youth. Suspect No. 3 had been divorced by his wife on charges of infidelity.

Suspect No. 4 is one of the powers in the motion picture world who did not attend Taylor's funeral.

Miss X is the police theory of a jealous woman who instigated the slaying of Taylor.

The will of Taylor is the latest article of the dead man to be added to mysteriously disappearing evidence. Frank Bryson, public administrator, is in charge of the investigation and disposal of Taylor's estate.

Purify Hollywood New York, Feb. 10.—"Hollywood must be purified by the government," Canon William S. Chase, veteran movie reformer, declared today. He demanded a resolution by congress to investigate Hollywood and prevent it from debauching the mind of America.

"Actors and actresses of the screen are teaching free love, adultery, murder, infidelity and lust. Too many of them are naturally practicing what they preach." The murder of Taylor was advocated as another reason for the moral cleanup of Hollywood.

1922 WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS FAR BELOW AVERAGE

CROP EXPERTS OF THE CHICAGO MARKET TOLD THE UNITED PRESS

SAYS WHEAT IN THE SOUTHWEST IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION OWING TO WEATHER

(By CARL V. LITTLE (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Prospects for the new wheat crop are of the poorest, said Mr. Snow, crop expert of the Chicago markets. The 1922 wheat crop is one far below average, Mr. Snow told the United Press in an interview. Last year's production of wheat in the United States was relatively small. From its limited supplies America exported to Europe more wheat than at any time of its history.

Wheat in the southwest is in a critical condition, fanned by dust storms, extreme temperature changes, wind and snow, and the poorest crop in the history of that section is expected.

The slim production is reflected in future dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade this year. The southwest crop report had an immediate bearing on quotations, which have generally gone higher.

The advance in wheat prices spells prosperity for many farmers. The spring wheat acreage will be largely increased.

"Hail the Woman"

Declared by critics to be one of the greatest photoplay classics of all time—a human epic of triumphant realism—"Hail the Woman", Thos. H. Ince's super drama of American life, is coming to the New Park Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

There are as many different opinions agree on the subject of "Hail the Woman". One critic, who prides himself on having seen every production of note in the realm of motion pictures, sat spellbound through the pre-view of "Hail the Woman".

At the conclusion of the picture, the critic walked out of the theatre, slowly and deep in thought. Then he turned to his companion and said:

"I do not know what some people call a 'good' picture; yet, if a picture that makes you leave the theatre with tears in your eyes, and a happy heart and a desire to accomplish an indefinite something great, is a good picture, then 'Hail the Woman' is one of the best pictures I have ever seen."

"IDEAL WEDDING AND HONEYMOON"

Much Interest Manifested in Sermon of Rev. Arthur C. Smith of First Baptist Church

MATRIMONY SERIOUS QUESTION

"Marriage is no Plaything, It is no Idle Dream," Said Rev. Smith in His Sermon

Much interest has been manifested in the sermon preached by the Rev. Arthur C. Smith last Sunday evening in the First Baptist church on "The Ideal Wedding." The minister took for his text words found in the second chapter of the Gospel of John, the first and second verses: "And on the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee and both Jesus was called and his disciples to the wedding."

The minister began by saying: "That if there is any subject which needs to be approached with all the seriousness of a man's intellect and heart it is the question of matrimony. Marriage is no idle plaything, it is no idle dream. It is one of the profoundest contracts and one of the most epochal events in human experience."

I want to approach this subject, said the speaker, with the utmost consciousness of the delicacy of such a subject, and put with a firmness of conviction that reference should be made to it with an earnest desire to warn and guard against some long standing evils and false notions with regard to so serious an undertaking.

In the Sunday evenings we have considered the "Ideal Man" and "The Ideal Woman" and surely such a pair ought to make an "Ideal Wedding." Dr. Farby in his book on "How to be happy though married," says, "Marriage is a blessing to some, a curse to others, but an uncertainty to all." Franklin once said, "That he who takes a wife takes care," but that doesn't always apply to the man. Two women were discussing their marital troubles one day when one asked, "By the way, what is your husband doing now?" "Oh," said the other, "he's settin' round telling what's going to happen next election." "Then he's a prophet?" "No, he ain't no prophet, for so far as this family is concerned, he's a dead loss." Byron, the poet, has averred that "Marriage is the bloom or blight of all men's happiness."

Colton remarked: "That marriage is a feast where the grace is sometimes better than the dinner." But what really is marriage? Is it the act of uniting a man and woman in the holy bonds of wedlock. The legal union of a man and woman for life. Marriage is a contract both civil or religious, by which the parties engage to live together in mutual affection and fidelity till death shall separate them. Oh, there are a multiplicity of definitions and opinions and explanations about marriage but it still remains one of the most serious and sacred institutions ever sanctioned by Almighty God. I know, said the minister, that we read a whole lot about matrimony in books and magazine articles, in books of fiction, but marriage is no fiction. The heroes and heroines are very fascinating, and photoplays present them in such charming adventures, but marriage in a book and outside of a book are two different things. Marriage portrayed from a picture film and marriage off the screen are altogether unlike.

Many people amuse themselves by perusing the so-called experiences of the newly weds in the Sunday papers as they are so curiously caricatured but you can gain no serious conception there, and nothing elevating in thought for one's mind on a holy Sabbath day pertaining to such a holy relationship as God intended it to be. For a true definition and a concrete example of marriage we are confined to God's book—the bible which is the source of instruction.

The pastor deplored the fact that marriage was looked upon by many as nothing more than an opportunity to play jokes and tricks upon the contracting parties which was often outrageous. The cause for jestings and frivolous indifference to the sanctity of marriage is often found in the way many plays are given describing its unnaturalness in comedy. The cartoons often presented wherein the bride and the groom and the parson are so hideously caricatured are not at all conducive to the elevating of thought in so sacred an institution as marriage, and a plea was made for a more sober and serious consideration in this respect.

Here the pastor gave a series of experiences by way of illustration as to the peculiar notions many folks have of the subject in question. Many questions are asked such as "How old should one be before marrying, the length or duration of courtship, and the question of equality. All these things must be determined by circumstances and conditions, no iron-clad rule can be laid down here. In extreme cases some marry very young and perhaps after only a week's acquaintance and strike it right. Some wait twenty-five years and miss it. It is sometimes asked "Is marriage a failure?" Yes, in some cases, awful failures. Yet the majority by far of marriages are successful notwithstanding that the divorce cases often clog the courts. Some young marriages are not successful, some old marriages are not successful and vice versa.

Some think they know each other in twenty-four hours. Some court by correspondence and marry on sight. But that is no criterion that they are good examples to follow. I do not advise too hasty marriages, for the old adage is still true that "to marry in haste is often repented of at leisure." The best advice I know for all who are contemplating marriage is to confide in and advise with right thinking honorable fathers and mothers.

The minister gave an interesting description of a love match properly conducted, declaring it one of the most interesting and sacred experiences in the drama of life. When the choice has been made and the gifts and the bouquets and the letters and the visits become frequent and the pair are lost in each other's affections. The night of the proposal and engagement, and the date set, the license procured and the ring bought, the wedding day, the ceremony performed, the benediction and the congratulations and the festival and then the honeymoon. All this was glowingly described in a most realistic manner by the preacher who said that after these things, and the return from the honeymoon, that that was not all of matrimony, the thing doesn't end there, not by any means. Life has only just begun. The fulfillment of the marriage vows and the art of living together are factors of utmost importance.

Marriage is a world without end contract. Addison has said a fine thing, "That two persons who have chosen each other out of all the species with a design to be each other's mutual comfort and entertainment, have in that action found themselves to be good-humored, affable, discreet, forgiving, patient and joyful with respect to each other's frailties and imperfections to the very end.

In concluding the minister said that the Ideal Wedding is the Christian Wedding, wherein love played the most important part and Jesus Christ is the guest of the home, drawing exquisite lessons from the scripture read wherein Jesus was called to the wedding and all that He means to life and the home. During the course of the sermon the Rev. Mr. Smith read the following poem by Mary T. Lathrop most effectively:

A Woman's Answer to a Man's Question
Do you know you have asked for the costliest thing
Ever made by the Hand above—
A woman's heart and a woman's life
And a woman's wonderful love?
Do you know you have asked for this priceless thing
As a child might ask for a toy?
Demanding what others have died to win
With the reckless dash of a boy!

You have written my lesson of duty out;
Man-like, you have questioned me,
Now stand at the bar of my woman's soul
Until I shall question thee.

You require your mutton shall always be hot;
Your socks and your shirts shall be whole.
I require your heart shall be true as God's stars;
And pure as Heaven your soul.

You require a cook for your mutton and beef;
I require a far grander thing.
A seamstress you're wanting for stockings and shirts;
I look for a man and a king.

A king for a beautiful realm called home,
And a man whom the maker, God,
Shall look upon as He did the first,
And say: "It is very good."

I am fair and young, but the rose will fade
From my soft young cheek one day.
Will you love me then, 'mid the falling leaves,
As you did 'mid the bloom of May

Is your heart an ocean so strong and deep

I may launch my all on its tide?
A loving woman finds Heaven or hell
On the day she is made a bride.

I require all things that are grand and true;
All things that a man should be.
If you give this all I would stake my life
To be all you demand of me.

If you can not do this, a laundress and cook

You can hire with little pay;
But a woman's heart and a woman's life

Are not to be won that way.
The Ideal Wedding culminates in heaven a description of which is given in God's holy word at the marriage feast of the King's Son. Invitations have already been sent out for the acceptance of every soul.

Next Sunday evening the pastor will speak on "The Ideal Home in the Making in Brainerd."

WORKING ON BONUS BILL

Telegraphic dispatches from Washington indicate that the Ways and Means committee of the House of Representatives is hard at work whipping into shape the soldiers' bonus bill. The hearings, which are being held daily, are rapidly drawing to a conclusion, and Chairman Fordney is of the opinion that the measure will be ready for report to the House within a few days, and that its passage will be prompt. The framing of the actual bonus provisions is of course comparatively easy, but the revenue sections of the bill are commanding the closest study by the committee, as they certainly should. Mr. Fordney has held consultations with President Harding, and the announcement has been made that the bill will include all the machinery for raising the necessary funds to meet its obligations.

It is estimated that the bonus will cost $425,000,000 a year for the first two years. The problem of raising this amount of additional revenue, it is fully realized, is a most difficult one for Congress to solve, but the members are convinced that the country is demanding a soldiers' bonus bill, and a measure will probably be worked out that is the least harmful to the taxpayer and that will disturb business as little as possible. The bill will be rushed to the Senate without needless delay in the House, in the hope that it may soon become a law, and that cash payments to the ex-soldiers may begin at an early date. The task of starting additional tax collecting agencies to work to raise a sum of such magnitude is one of which the Treasury should have prompt notification, as well as the business interests and all those who will be obliged to put up the cash.

LEAGUERS AND SOCIALISTS

Since Townley was released from jail he has been working industriously to form a combination of the Non-partisan League with the Democrats in the coming state campaign. His idea is for the Leaguers not to put up a state ticket, but to endorse Democratic candidates who will stand for Townley and his policies. John Lind is figured on as the coalition candidate for United States Senator.

On the other hand Thos. Van Lear and Henrik Shipstead and their Socialist followers, who affiliate with the League, insist upon putting a complete "Farmer-Labor" ticket in the field. Van Lear is their candidate for Governor, and Shipstead for Senator. There is a prospect, therefore, of a split between the Nonpartisans and the Socialists, as considerable feeling has developed in the contest for supremacy.

THE GENOA CONFERENCE

The Genoa conference was made possible by the Washington conference. Whatever may be accomplished at Genoa would have been impossible of attainment had it not been for the changes in world conditions brought about at Washington. Financial discussions will probably feature the proceedings at Genoa, but they would have been futile if the Washington conference had not lifted the tremendous cost of maintaining huge navies and released funds for debt payment and other economic uses. In short, the gathering of the powers at Washington, at the invitation of President Harding, marked the turning point in the affairs of mankind, and paved the way for the solution of other difficulties that beset the nations.

DISARMAMENT COMMISSION

Following the adjournment of the Conference for the Limitation or Armament in Washington, the Disarmament Commission of the League of Nations will hold a meeting in Paris Feb. 20 to discuss further means of bringing about the reduction of the instruments of war throughout the world.

This commission is made up of twenty members representing the chief countries of Europe. It is stated that the members of the commission are greatly encouraged by the results accomplished at Washington, and believe that the progress made there through American initiative will add much strength to the disarmament work of the League.

OUR FREEDOM OF ACTION

The United States refused to become a member of the League of Nations, but this did not necessarily interfere with the most generous grant of American aid in the work of European reconstruction. It is of course possible, if not probable, that we may decline to send delegates to the Genoa conference, but our natural sympathy for the misfortunes of Europe will continue unabated. America undoubtedly can be a far greater power in world readjustments if her freedom of action is unhampered by foreign entanglements.

The latest from administration sources is that Dr. Hubert Work, Assistant Postmaster General, will be appointed to succeed Will Hays as Postmaster General. Rumors had been current for the past week that Charles D. Hilles, former private secretary to President Taft, and National Republican committeeman from New York state, might be induced to succeed Mr. Hays.

Everyone should realize that it is unquestionably as unpleasant for Congress to impose taxes as it is for the public, upon whom they fall, but, the soldiers' bonus having been decided upon, it becomes the stern duty of Congress to provide means for its payment.

It is now said that it is likely that the submission to the Senate by President Harding of the treaties resulting from the Arms Conference will be delayed until next week.

AMUSEMENTS

Thoughtless, Dangerous, Innocent Youth

"You are nothing but a butterfly—a silly, empty-headed butterfly!" The words were flung at Edith Folsom by an enraged hostess, driven to an outburst of temper by the disgraceful conduct of her pretty guest.

Edith Folsom is "The Butterfly Girl" portrayed by Marjorie Daw at the Lyceum Theatre tonight only and the actions that had so enraged her friend had seemed to Edith innocent and harmless enough. It was true that Bob Lane boasted of being a devil among the women, and to be seen with him was to have your reputation torn to shreds, but Edith loved to play with fire, and she loved to be admired—and to slip away from the dinner dance and take a spin on the open moonlit road in Bob's new car offered adventure and romance.

"The Butterfly Girl" is a serious story told in satirical vein of a certain type of frivolous, modern girl. It presents Miss Daw in a role that discloses new charms and a wide range of emotional power. She is given the support of a splendid cast that includes Fritz Brunette, King Baggot, Lisle Darnell, Jean Du Briac and Ned Whitney Raymond.

Harold Lloyd and Bebe Daniels will be seen on the same program in the "Rainbow Island."

Chas Chaplin at Lyceum Saturday

Another treat is in store for the "kiddies" as well as the older folks who attend the Lyceum on Saturday Charlie Chaplin will furnish the fun in "The Immigrant." Children will be admitted for 5c at the matinee, 2:15.

Fox Co-Stars Coming to Lyceum Theatre Saturday

Edna Murphy and Johnnie Walker, the youthful co-stars created by William Fox, have made unusual progress in popularity with the picture-going public. They first gained special favor in that remarkable Fox picture "Over the Hill," and it was their excellent work in the screen masterpiece that won their promotion to stardom. Up to date they have co-starred in three photoplays, and their fourth, "The Jolt," will come to the Lyceum Theatre Saturday only.

"The Jolt" is a story of acute human interest. It deals with a gangster who came back from overseas with a French bride and found it difficult to obtain honest employment. In desperation he resorted to his former methods. Fate intervened and the young man was won back to the straight and narrow path by his charming wife and a moral "jolt" in which figured his former "buddy."

Twin City Vaudeville at New Park Tonight

The first number on the vaudeville at the New Park theatre for this week will be Raymond and Lyte in a wonderful new act composed of sparkling songs and dances. This is the first real dancing act that has ever been shown in Brainerd, so do not miss it. Miss Lyte is very attractive and an especially talented little dancer while Mr. Lyte is known in every vaudeville house as being exceptionally remarkable in his many various skips and twists and will certainly show you something in the line of dance.

In the second act we have Lillian Boardman, who is known all over the world as the Little Big Soprano. She is a very demure miss, with a pleasing personality, who will carry you back to the ballads of old, and then all in one breath, give you the popular airs of today with such remarkable talent that you will long remember her wonderful versatility and charm.

The third and last act is really the spice of the program in the form of a little play entitled "Marriage and Divorce," featuring George Usher, Luci Suki, May Town and Anne Callahan. This act is certainly one of the most clever of its kind to be presented in this city, with special scenery and costumes. Mr. Usher and Miss Suki hold the stage most of the time as the lovers, but Divorce enters in the person of Miss Town, and warns them to beware of Marriage, portrayed by Miss Callahan. After the wedding the fun begins, Marriage and Divorce enter the ring with a three-round fight, but Marriage wins out in the end and all is well.

Neal Hart at New Park Saturday

The aurora borealis, which has hitherto defied successful photography, has been woven into the plot of a photoplay which will be seen at the New Park theatre on Sunday.

The picture is called "Skyfire," with Neal Hart, known as "America's Pal," for its star.

The picture is a very recent release, and the camera work by which the shimmering glow of the Northern Lights is shown on the screen is said to mark an important step forward in motion picture photography. The legends and traditions of the Chipewewa tribe of Indians, based on the occasional appearance of the aurora in the northern skies, have been utilized as the underlying theme of the story.

Goes Farther

A can of Calumet Baking Powder will make more pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, etc. than a can of most other brands.

It lasts longer—goes farther because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less.

When a recipe calls for two teaspoons of baking powder, use two level teaspoons of Calumet, the results will always be the same—perfectly raised bakings—remember this when you buy baking powder and don't forget that Calumet is the economic buy because it goes farther.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

HARPER SPOKE ON INCOME TAX LAWS

Tax Consultant Made an Interesting Address Before Chamber of Commerce Wednesday

STATED EXEMPTIONS GIVEN

Extension of Time Has Been Granted for Filing, Interest in Invested Capital Explained

In his address before the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening, Harry D. Harper of Harper & Wise of Minneapolis, explained the many new provisions regarding the income tax laws effective this year. The address was listened to with the closest attention and many questions were asked.

Summarizing his talk, Mr. Harper brought out these points:

The following persons must make an income tax return:

Every single person having a net income of $1,000.00 or over.

Every married person having a net income of $2,000.00 or over.

Every individual having a gross income of $5,000.00 or over must make a return for 1921, regardless of the amount of net income.

Gross income means profits from the sale of merchandise, etc., before taking out expenses of running the business.

Exemptions for individuals are:

Single person $1,000.00.

Married person, living with husband or wife, or the head of a family, $2,500.00, but only if the net taxable income is less than $5,000.00. If the net taxable income is in excess of $5,000.00, the exemption is $2,000.00. If the net taxable income is in excess of $5,000.00, the normal tax shall not be greater than if the exemption of $2,500.00 were allowed, plus the net income in excess of $5,000.00.

If the net taxable income was $5,015.00, the tax according to Sec. 216 (C) would be computed as follows: $5,015.00 less exemption of $2,500.00 equals $2,515.00, taxable at 4% or $100.60 plus "the amount of the net income in excess of 5,000.00," or ($15) $115.60 normal tax.

There is also a surtax of 1% on the excess over $5,000.00 but less than $6,000.00. The surtax, therefore, would be 1% of $15 or $1.50, making a total normal and surtax tax of $117.10.

Extension of Time
Extension of time has been granted until May 15 for the filing of all partnership, and personal service corporation tax returns.

In pricing of inventories the method allowed by the government is to take the cost price on each article, if that is lower than the market price, or take the market price on the article, if the market price is less than the original cost. This method of pricing the inventory may mean that the total inventory will be priced at a lower figure than either all cost or all market prices were used. The method followed by some merchants of taking 10% from their total inventory price, to allow for shrinkage in their inventory, is a method that would not be allowed if their inventory were checked by the department. It is necessary to take the shrinkage, if any, on each item and not on the total.

Any loss in business during the year 1921 may be taken out of the profits for 1922 and 1923 before paying any income tax for those years.

The new law states that any property which was purchased or built before March 1st, 1913 fair market value of that property may be used as a basis for computing depreciation. Tax payers should take advantage of this, because, if the property was acquired a great many years ago, the value on March 1st, 1913 would be considerably greater than the cost and, therefore, the deduction for depreciation could be increased, causing a reduction in taxable income and a saving in the income taxes.

A taxpayer has option of either setting up a Reserve for Bad Debts for 1921, or charging accounts off during the taxable year. "Debits ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the taxable year (or, in the discretion of the commissioner, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts); and when satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the commissioner may allow such debt to be charged off in part." (Section 214). A taxpayer, therefore, has the right to deduct a reasonable proportion for bad debts in 1921, even though no reserve for bad debts has never been previously set up. The past experience of the concern will probably furnish the best basis as to the amount which should be set aside. Your attention is called, however, to the fact that the percentage of loss for 1921 will probably be greater than for 1917 to 1920, due to general business conditions.

manager be interested in what the treasury department has called "invested capital". This subject is of interest if your company has been subject to excess profits tax, for the following reasons: First, a corporation is allowed to make $3,000 plus 8 per cent on its invested capital before paying any excess profits tax. Therefore, if you can build up the invested capital of your corporation, you can reduce the excess tax to be paid or paid during the years 1917 to 1921.

Second—A corporation is subject to excess profits tax of 40 per cent on the income over and above 20 per cent on the invested capital of the years 1919-1921 and a higher rate for 1918 and 1917. If you increase the invested capital for the year, what will be the result, if your incorporation has been subject to a 40 per cent excess profits tax? It will mean simply that a portion of the taxable income now subject to 40 per cent rate will be subject to a 20 per cent rate and therefore, you will save 20 per cent of the amount of the income shifted from the second to the first bracket.

Excess profits taxes, Mr. Harper explained, are not repealed until 1922 and will, therefore, affect corporations, making their returns this year. The normal tax, ten per cent, for 1921 is the same, there being no change. Exemptions allowed corporations are 2,000 from the normal tax unless the income is over $25,000.00.

A special invitation is extended to the women of Brainerd so that they may gain some knowledge as to the problems that the American labor movement is confronted with, and which they are trying to solve.

G. W. Lawson, secretary of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, will accompany Mr. Smith and explain why the labor movement is so intensely interested in the union label.

It is to be hoped that the citizens of Brainerd will attend this meeting in large numbers so that any misunderstanding or questions in the minds of the general public with reference to the American labor movement may be cleared away.

PUBLIC MASS MEETING

The Water and Light Board requests that all citizens interested in a program of improvements in the city water system for 1922 meet at Gardner's Hall Friday evening, February 10th, at 8 p. m. sharp. The Board will present an outline of improvements, and it is desirable that the public acquaint itself therewith. The discussion of the evening will be confined to these following few important questions. Do you want West Brainerd or the Mill District or both to receive water-service this year, and if so, how would you pay for it? Do you want to replace now the existing defective mains or continue repairing leaks; and if you prefer to relay the mains, how would you provide money for the cost of such work? Do you believe in having the city pay to the Board by taxation the full cost of adequate hydrant-service for fire protection, or do you favor having the Board pay most of the cost, as it now does, and meet this expense by maintaining high meter-rates?

NEW LACE SHAWLS

Models From Paris to Replace Silk for Summer.

Foundation Is Brussels Net and Sometimes a Net With Fine Thread but Coarse Mesh.

That lace shawls in exquisite coloring are likely to replace the now popular silk ones for summer wear seems evident from models brought over from Paris. The foundation for these shawls is Brussels net, and sometimes a net with a fine thread but coarse mesh that reminds one of veillings. This is black with color introduced through embroidery.

One model is a large square, embroidered with a wide border of Paisley design and coloring. The net is black, while the warm blues, yellows, and especially rose of the silks are repeated in the silk fringe about six inches long.

Several of the shawls are shaped similar to a half moon because, it is said, this type drapes more gracefully than the square or oblong. A model of this kind comes in black net with black silk fringe. The body of the shawl is braided in a running design as a border, and with scrolls and plumes. White wooden beads are used to emphasize the scrolls.

Gauze fans with painted birds, butterflies and flowers compose an interesting part of one collection. The colorings are very soft, quite different from those of the vivid feather fans recently used. In dull blues, greens and yellows, they are designed with an eye to harmonizing with light summer frocks.

One model shows three birds painted on satin and applied. The entire fan is in various shades of gray, while two others are the same design in blue and dull orange respectively. A pheasant in soft browns, a peacock, a dragonfly in deep blue make motifs for other designs.

A few of the fans are embroidered lightly in silk of the same color as the gauze. These use spangles sparingly. One Dresden model is charming with its delicately carved and painted ivory sticks, its painted garlands of tiny flowers and applique of two-toned narrow ribbon.

GIVE LIFE TO PLAIN FROCK

All-over open embroidered net combined with val lace makes this collar and cuff set a dressy feature of an otherwise plain frock.

NEW SATIN EVENING WRAPS

Softest and Most Clinging Materials Are Used This Season for Dress Occasions.

Some of the evening wraps for the season are made of the softest and most clinging materials. One, for instance, was of dark blue crepe. It was fashioned in cape effect and had large revers of pure white ermine. On the lower part of the cape and at the sides were placed shaped panels of the ermine fur. Another wrap was of opera satin to which was attached at the shoulders an overmantle of lace, headed by cord and frill of the lace. The lace was threaded with steel-colored metal threads. A second mantle was of raspberry-colored silk and trimmed with gray fox and garlands of roses. Evening frocks are of gorgeous silks and laces. One exceedingly pretty model was of apricot silk, trimmed with gold lace. Another was of white satin over a silver lace skirt, which was caught up with a bouquet of blue and cherry-colored roses.

Capes of Full Length.

Any number of black, full length, fur-collared capes are being worn. These are generally of one of the pile fabrics like duvetyn, and black caracul is the favored pelt for the choker collar, though some mole has been used for this purpose. No one length is favored for these sport capes. Another was full length, showing only about an inch of the plaid skirt chosen to accompany the plain colored cape.

Sanitary Hair Brushes.

When washing hair brushes rinse them in cold water, well salted. This assists sterilization and the bristles dry stiffer than ever.

ARGENTINE GIRLS DROPPING LEMON JUICE FOR WORK

Buenos Aires, Feb. 10.—(By mail to the United Press.)—Year by year Argentina's consumption of lemon juice and vinegar is growing smaller, for the girls have discovered that it is easier and more pleasant to keep themselves lithe and thin through outdoor exercise than by the former system of starvation, doctoring and dieting. There is more health and less fat in a tennis court than in a whole keg of vinegar, they have found.

Persons who have lived in Argentina for some years have remarked on the visible change that has taken place in the appearance of the young people, more especially in the girls, since the whole country became sports mad. Formerly the girls spent most of their time indoors with no prospect except rounder, plumper and less active with the passing years. Some of them rebelled, chose the vinegar-starvation route and ended with yellow, sunken cheeks and ruined digestive systems.

Then gradually Argentina seemed by common consent to change into a country of outdoor sports. First, the young men and boys took up football and rowing, then their sisters discovered that they too were entitled to the freedom that comes with outdoor games. Principally they have chosen tennis as the best game for them, although they also play golf and row on the "Tigre," where Buenos Aires enjoys its water sports.

Every holiday in Buenos Aires presents the spectacle of thousands of persons on pleasure bent hurrying to the tennis or golf clubs, the football field or the river. Fully half of them are women dressed in bright sports clothes and many of them carrying tennis rackets or golf clubs. Not only have the women and girls developed a love for outdoor sports, they have also developed a surprising aptitude for them and play their favorite games hard and well.

Italy Seeks to Free Herself From Foreign Coal Domination

(By HENRY WOOD, United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, Feb. 10.—Along with Italy's present effort to free herself from the bondage of foreign coal domination by the electrification of her state railways, Italy is making an equally heroic effort to throw off the yoke of foreign tobacco slavery.

Between what Italy now pays for foreign coal and foreign tobacco, it can be truthfully said that a goodly portion of her national wealth goes annually up in smoke—and foreign smoke at that.

What makes it particularly hard for Italy to gain her tobacco independence is the fact that just as she gets her nostrils nicely filled with the sweet scent of liberty and is on the point of burning her betters with the lighted stump of a domestic made cigar, the Italian population as a whole suddenly takes to smoking more than ever, and Italy has to return to spending millions abroad in order to supply the demand.

Before the war Italy smoked 400,000,000 lire worth of cigars and cigarettes annually. Now she smokes 2,700,000,000. While a portion of this increase is due to the advance in prices charged, yet the greater bulk of it is due to the fact that the war taught hundreds of thousands of young men to smoke, many of whom had remained in the native peasant districts would not have been able to, and also to the fact that Italian women are in no way behind their sisters of other modern civilized nations in taking to the wicked weed.

All of this has a very direct bearing upon Italy's finances owing to the fact that the government operates a state monopoly on tobacco in Italy as regards both the manufacture and the sale. As she also has to buy the raw product the question of whether she can produce enough at home to supply her local demand or whether she has to buy abroad thereby increasing her exportations and sending up her exchange, becomes of great importance.

Italy's monopoly on tobacco is the only one that as a matter of fact has been a real success as a revenue producer. She has been able to operate this on a basis of about 70 per cent profit. In other words of the 7,000,000 lire which the Italian public spends every day for tobacco, 5,000,000 lire goes into the state treasury as profit and revenue and only 2,000,000 lire actually goes up in smoke.

Frankly, Italy thinks that it would hardly be possible to do better than this; in fact she doubts if the public would stand for a larger percentage of tax and a smaller ratio of smoke. Hence her only chance of making the monopoly more profitable to the state is by producing all of her tobacco at home and avoiding foreign purchases of the raw material.

The government is therefore encour-

BAD LUCK AND THE DEVIL PURSUED HIM

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever; since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. aging and doing everything possible to promote tobacco growing. However, Italian peasants are neither fond of novelties in the matter of crops or of the difficulties involved in tobacco growing, but little by little the Italian government is winning her freedom from foreign tobacco markets.

At the present time the Italian government spends 450,000,000 lire annually for raw tobacco of which only 180,000,000 is spent at home, the other 300,000,000 going to foreign tobacco growers.

To date Italy has made the most progress in the growing of light tobacco of which she uses 60,000 quintals annually. In the southern province of Lecce about 20,000 acres are now under cultivation and this about supplies the local demand.

With dark tobacco of the "Kentucky" type for her cigars Italy is not so fortunate. At the present time this being cultivated principally in Tuscany. However, her needs are 200,000 quintals annually and she produces only 50,000. But by bringing her present acreage from 8,000 up to 12,000

CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says Skin Pores are Closed and Uric Acid Remains in Blood

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of the impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. Adv.

Italy hopes eventually to win her tobacco independence and blow her smoke in the face of other nations instead of having to blow back their own, for which she has paid them.
